GRAINGER FOR MAYOR

Democrats Select City Ticket at Louisville.

Representatives and Senators About Equally Divided Between Wheeler, McCreary and Cantrill.

Louisville, July 10.—Charles F. Grainger was nominated for mayor on the Democratic ticket yesterday by a vote of two to one. T. L. Jefferson was the only other candidate.

A good ticket was named throughout. No complaints are made and no talk of contests is indulged in.

Magistrate McCann, a Brown Democrat, was nominated for police judge. This insures the support of the Whallen crowd. Alexander, another Whallenite, was badly beaten by Bluffaker. Hoke was beaten by Judge Gregory.

Grainger's Majority was 5,000 out of a total vote of 13,800.

Weller, who is for Wheeler and McNut for McCreary, were nominated for senator. The representatives are Lettler, young Newcomb, Reyher, Edwards, McDonald, C'Conner, Drewry. They are about equally divided between McCreary, Wheeler, Cantrill and Ellis. Newcomb is the wealthiest young man in the county. McDonald is an ex-Confederate.

A FREE MAN.

"Nuck" Howard, Arrested Here, Was Acquitted at Owensboro.

"Nuck" Howard, who was arrested near this city about two weeks ago and taken to Owensboro to answer a charge of shooting at with intent to kill his sister, Mrs. Pete Gertisen, is a free man again. At his examining trial at Owensboro the case was dismissed, his prosecution and dismissal for killing her husband serving as a bar to this prosecution. He was dismissed in that case on a plea of insanity and after being sent to the asylum here was released in a short while.

DEATH NEAR CROFTON.

Mrs. Aldy Smith, wife of Mr. Samuel Smith, who lives four miles east of Crofton, died Sunday afternoon, after an illness of several months. She was 28 years old and had been a member of the Baptist Church for several years. She is survived by a husband and several small children. The interment took place Monday in the West burying ground.

FIRE BY LIGHTNING.

Shotgun Explodes But No One Was Hurt.

A most remarkable accident occurred during a thunderstorm at Hampton Station, near Guthrie. Lightning struck a loaded shotgun standing in the corner of J. T. Hancock's store, fired the gun and caused the weapon to burst. No one was hurt.

GREAT SUCCESS.

Many Counties Represented in the Roads Convention.

Meeting Far Ahead of the Louisville Gathering in Attendance and Interest.

Intensely interested in the good roads movement, hundreds of farmers forsook harvest fields Wednesday to become delegates to the Western Kentucky Good Roads Convention, which met in the Union Tabernacle. Many ladies were present, who chatted volubly and wondered what it was all about until enlightened by erudite speakers.

Although a spirit of business controls the convention, there was a feeling of festivity in the town which had its prelude in an Elks' social session Tuesday night, where Gov. Beckham was guest of honor. This social phase of the convention continued Wednesday night with a ball at Hotel Latham. In the meantime the ladies' arrangement committee kept open house in public reception, serving light refreshments.

Previous to the opening of the convention many drove to Cox Mill bridge to inspect the model road.

There was the usual delay in the preliminaries of the convention, which was not called to order by Mayor Dabney until nearly 11 o'clock. Two thousand people were present.

Previous to prayer by Rev. J. L. Wyatt, of the Cumberland Presbyterian church, Girard's Concert Band attired in blue and white striped shirt waists, rendered some lively airs. George C. Long, President First National Bank, was made temporary chairman and Chas. M. Meacham temporary secretary. The welcome address was delivered by Judge James Breathitt, which was responded to by Hon. Dancy L. Fort, of Clarksville, Tenn. Both speakers convulsed the great crowd with humorous stories most appropriate to the occasion and brilliantly boomed the movement. Temporary Chairman Long having an engagement soon insisted on retiring to make way for ex-Congressman J. D. Clardy, whom he named for permanent chairman. The convention enthusiastically received Dr. Clardy, who introduced Gov. Beckham amidst continued enthusiasm and applause. The Governor delivered a brief address, approving the motive of the meeting, promising the movement his support and congratulating the people upon the absence of politics. The convention then adjourned until 2:30.

In the afternoon speeches were made by Col. Richardson, of the Good Roads Association; Dr. J. H. Lackey, of Trigg county; Judge John G. B. Hall, of Hopkins county; Hon. Henry D. Allen and others.

A committee on credentials was appointed, composed as follows: Dr. W. G. Wheeler, of Christian; Hon. Gerald Finn, of Simpson; Col. M. H. Crump, of Warren; Judge Robert Crenshaw, of Trigg; Hon. H. W. Woodson, of Webster; Gen. H. B. Lyon, of Lyon; Squire W. B. Brewer, of Todd.

This committee submitted a partial report with a list of 120 delegates from fourteen counties besides 500 or more from Christian. As many were known to be on the evening trains, the final report was deferred. Hon. Jas. A. McKinzie, who was expected to deliver the address of welcome, was not present, but Judge Breathitt proved to be a very able and ready substitute.

A committee on Resolutions, with Mayor Dabney as chairman, was appointed; also a Committee on Permanent Organization of the Western Good Roads Association, to report Thursday.

Yesterday's Session.

The Convention reconvened at 9:30 yesterday morning and after prayer by Rev. J. T. Rushing and

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diagnoses put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J.
Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surface of the system.
They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address

Catarrh

Is a constitutional disease.
It originates in a serous condition
of the blood and depends on that condition.
It often causes headache and dizziness,
impairs the taste, smell and hearing, affects the vocal organs and disturbs the stomach.
It is always radically and permanently cured by the blood-purifying, alterative and tonic action of

Hood's Sarsaparilla

This great medicine has wrought the most wonderful cures of all diseases depending on scrofula or the scrofulous habit.

The Minnesota Pardon Board has approved the parole of Coleman and James Younger, who have been in the Stillwater penitentiary for the past twenty-five years for complicity in the robbery and murder at the time of the raid on the Northfield, Minn., bank. They were members of the Jesse James gang.

Editor Bob Walker, of the Cattenden Press, has not yet learned how to be funny without being cruel,
as witness this:

"It is to be hoped that the section of good road to be built at Hopkinsville today and tomorrow will be good enough and long enough for those fellows who have been discredit to the asylum management to get out of the town upon."

A local wag created considerable excitement on the streets Wednes-that Gov. Beckham had, during his visit here, promised to pardon the gamblers indicted by the last grand jury. There was no truth in the report.

BETHEL FEMALE COLLEGE.

Something About This Select Home
School For Young Ladies.

We take pleasure in calling the attention of all visitors to Bethel Female College, an institution whose single purpose is to offer to young ladies and girls the advantages of the highest collegiate education on moderate terms. Inquiry and personal investigation will convince any one that our people in Hopkinsville already have a school for females which is surpassed by none
in educational facilities, thoroughness of instruction and influences adopted to training and development of mind and true womanly
character. This Select Home School for young ladies, so beautifully situated in the South-eastern part of our town, with its commodious building, ample ground, modern appointments, and full corps of experienced teachers in all departments, should attract the attention and command the patronage of parents who desire the best opportunities for their daughters.

The authorities of the college are very desirous of increased day patronage from the people of the city, believing that the atmosphere and retirement which belong to the boarders, will enable them to concentrate attention upon study, and contribute to the rapid progress of the day-pupils also.

The last session has been the most prosperous and successful since the re-organization, and everything seems to indicate that the session which opens Sept. 2, 1901,
will be even more satisfactory.

The officers of the college are:
Edmund Harrison, M. A., president;
Wm. H. Harrison, vice-president;
Mrs. Edmund Harrison, lady principal.

The faculty consists of the following experienced instructors:
Edmund Harrison, N. A., Latin,

sophy.

DUAL DEALING.

Two Names, Two Wives, Two Homes, Two Jobs.

Chicago, July 11.—A peculiar double life was revealed in the criminal court here in the case of John P. Klein alias John P. Kent, who pleaded guilty to a charge of bigamy and was sentenced to a charge of bigamy and was sentenced to the penitentiary and fined $1. Klein not only had two wives, two names and two homes, but also worked himself to death trying to hold two jobs as a printer. For his first wife, who lives at 108 Mohawk street, he worked all day and gave her about $25 a week. At night he worked in another printing office and took to his second wife at 1130 School street, the proceeds, which amounted to about $10 a week. The latter, however, found it hard to get along on that amount and started an investigation, which resulted in the discovery that the man was leading a double life.

November 13, 1898, Klein married
Mary H. Panoch, and on December 6, 1900, married Olga Salstrom at Hammond, Ind., under the name of Kent. The story was told before Judge Kent, who pronounced the sentence.

Cure for Cholera Infantum—Never Known to Fail.

During last May an infant child of our neighbor was suffering from cholera infantum. The doctors had given up all hopes of recovery.
I took a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy to the house, telling them I felt sure that it would do good if used according to directions. In two days, time the child had fully recovered. The child is now vigorous and healthy. I have recommended this remedy frequently and have never known it to fail.—

Of the 953,243 population of Porto Rico only 75,000 live in cities. On the island but 100 miles long and 36 wide are 40,000 district farms and one-fifth of the island is under cultivation. The average size of a farm in Porto Rico is 45 acres, of which 12 are cultivated. Seventy-one per cent. of these Porto Rican farms are owned by whites.

A fine maltese cat and a large rat fought to a finish on the lawn fronting B. W. Scott's homestead, in the center of Anderson, Ind., says the Indianapolis News. Both were found dead, with the rat's teeth firmly imbedded in the cat's neck, while the teeth of the feline were sunk deeply into the body of the rodent. No one witnessed the battle.

The biggest living man is said to be Lewis Wilkins, who is now arousing great interest in the scientific circles of Europe. Wilkins was born on a farm near St. Paul, Minn., in 1874. When but ten years old he measured six feet in height, and now has grown to the tremendous height of 107 1/2 inches—just three-quarters of an inch less than nine feet—and weighs 364 pounds.

SUICIDE CLUBS.

Have Done Much to Increase the Manila for Self Destruction.

"I think there is no doubt that what are known as suicide clubs exist in fact as well as in fiction," observed one of the physicians of the government hospital for the insane to a Washington Star reporter, "and that three recent suicides in this city are the outcome of the existence of a club of this character. My investigation into the circumstances of quite a number of suicides of this kind has convinced me that these suicide clubs are always composed of men who use intoxicating liquor and use it to excess. While under the influence of noxiousness and often as a result of raggedness they organize such clubs. After that they discuss the subject among themselves and others, and find plenty of occurrences in the newspapers to prove or disprove, as they desire, any position they may have taken on the subject. It is as well known is anything can be in psychology that impressions grow rather than diminish, and that often whether a person is willing or not, his original impression to do a certain thing grows on him unconsciously and that at certain times and under certain conditions of non-success or failure in material matters he is more controlled by it than at others. I am satisfied that these suicide clubs have done much to increase the number of suicides. The persons who are not liable to be influenced by such association or agreement are not what are known as popular people, the apparently good-natured and easy-going people, who make and retain large numbers of friends. Positive people never join a suicide club; indeed, they seldom come in contact with the kind of people who do. I do not care to go into personalities in this matter, but this I think will be shown, that the suicide is generally an extremely pleasant kind of person and belongs to a class that the ordinary person would never suspect of having any tendencies toward self-destruction."

Compounding a Felony.

"No questions will be asked" is a dangerous ending in England to an advertisement for the recovery of a lost dog or any other article of moderate value, for by an old statute it is open to anyone to bring an action against the advertiser or the newspaper for £50 penalty and costs. This was the result of a case heard the other day at Manchester. The old thing is that the court had no discretion to diminish the penalty. It is believed to be the first conviction of

THE AUSTRALIAN CENSUS.

Victoria Falls Behind New South Wales in Population.

Among the surprises of the Australian census, says the Tablet, is the fact that during the last ten years the population of New South Wales has increased by a number which is four times as great as that which Victoria has added to her number. The census returns show that the increase in the population of Victoria since 1891 is only 55,169, against an increase of 278,000 in the previous decade. The increase is almost entirely in females. During the decade females have increased 51,982 and males only 3,187. Since 1891 the natural increase by excess of births over deaths has been 180,000, and the excess of departures over arrivals, therefore, is 125,000. This one-tenth of the population in 1891 has left Victoria during the decade. At the census of 1891 Victoria had the largest population among the Australian colonies; now New South Wales leads in this respect. The increase in the rural population largely exceeds that of the urban. The population of Melbourne is now 493,956, an increase since 1891 of 3,060; the population of the remainder of the state is 701,998, showing an increase of 52,409. Melbourne, Bendigo, Ballarat and Geelong combined show an increase in population of 12,003; the remainder of the state, 33,166. The census returns show that the population of New South Wales is now, approximately, 1,262,232, an increase since the last census of 230,000.

SOME OF MR. EVARTS' JOKES.

Statesman Known to Have Been Very Witty on Occasion.

At dinner one of our guests spoke of Evarts, and mentioned that that witty personage had remarked, when a speaker who was famous for boring his auditors to death declared that there was nothing which gave him so much pleasure as to speak in public: "The earth is full of such compensations." On being asked whether he would go to the funeral of a man whom he very much disliked, Evarts replied: "No, I shall not attend; but I quite approve of it."

He mentioned that Evarts had been walking once with a man who bored him a good deal with raptures about scenery, "the laughing brooks," and what not. "Did it ever strike you," said Evarts, "that when there are so many laughing brooks in this country it should actually be a criminal offense to divert a water course?"

Mr. Hugh Smith, who dined with us to-night, told me that he once said to Mr. Evarts: "I have given a great deal of attention to Jersey cows, and can never understand how it is that they give so much more milk with you than with us." Evarts made no reply, but presently remarked: "I wonder that you should feel surprised at Jersey cows giving so much less milk with you than they do in an American newspaper."

Of a family not too famous for its virtue, the witty lawyer had said: "That family is propagated by slips."—Diary of Sir Mount Stuart Grant-Duff.

NO CAUSE FOR ALARM.

Cool Nerve of Fisherman Angling in Potomac Waters.

A patient angler was not long ago diligently plying his rod and line in the waters of a cool, clear, limpid brook, when he was suddenly startled by a loud and angry voice behind him. "Do you know," cried the irascible riparian owner, "that you are fishing in forbidden water?"

"Forbidden water?" replied the fisherman calmly. "I was not aware of it."

"Yes, sir, preserved water; and perhaps you will allow me to inform you that I have been to the good lot of expense at one time and another in well stocking it with fish."

"Ah, yes," exclaimed the angler, languidly, "and with what fish, may I ask, have you so liberally replenished this stream?"

"Rough, sir!" roared the angry land owner, "my favorite fish."

"Ah, well, then, in that case," blandly observed the fisherman, "there's no need for you to worry further, for I am fishing for trout!"—London Tit-Bits.

Alism is often expressed lest the May flower become extinct in New England. In Connecticut the plant is under the wing of the law, and it is a misdemeanor there to tear it up by the roots. CORREGIDOR'S TOMB.

Historical Spot in the Philippines Desecrated and Riddled by Greedy American Soldiers.

When Dewey's squadron entered Manila bay on the mission that was to change the destinies of the Philippines the first shot fired at him came from Corregidor Island, at the entrance to the harbor. But, because of its strategic position, has gone down in naval history, yet few people know how it got its name.

Recent unfortunate events which compelled the government to step in and prevent further desecration of the tomb of Corregidor, its discoverer, have brought the history into prominence.

CORREGIDOR'S TOMB

(Located at the Entrance to the Harbor of Manila)

Corregidor, says the New York Herald, was a Spanish explorer and was buried on the island, where a handsome tomb had been erected to his memory.

When the Spanish surrendered Corregidor Island to the Americans, a company of soldiers and hospital men were sent there to establish a hospital. While in Manila the soldiers had heard many stories of the Corregidor tomb. One of the stories given out was that a vast amount of jewelry and money had been stored away in the tomb.

As soon as the American soldiers landed on the island they at once tore their way into the monument, but failed to find anything of value. A rusted sword and a few trinkets were all that was found.

The picture shows the hole that the American soldiers made in the tomb.

A Sustaining Diet.

These are the enervating days, when, as somebody has said, men drop by the sunstroke as if the Day of Fire had dawned. They are fraught with danger to people whose systems are poorly sustained; and this leads us to say, in the interest of the less robust of our readers, that the full effect of Hood's Sarsaparilla is such as to suggest the propriety of calling this medicine something besides a blood purifier and tonic—say, a sustaining diet. It makes it much easier to bear the heat, assures refreshing sleep, and will without any doubt avert much sickness at this time of year.

The saloon of A. B. Jones, on Sixth street, was discovered on fire about 1:30 o'clock yesterday morning, but the flames were extinguished before much damage was done. The saloon stock and fixtures were also damaged by smoke and water.

It is not known how the flames originated. The fire department reached the building in a very few minutes after the alarm was turned in and did some fine work.
